TEMPERANCE WORKERS ON KANSAS PROHIBITORY LAW.

OFFICERS IGNORE THEIR DUTY.

DR. FISHER'S REMARKABLE STATE-MENT AT TOPEKA.

Annual Meeting of the State Temper ance Union Starts Off With a Dash -About 200 Delegates in Attendance-Real Business To-day.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 1 .- (Special.) The annual convention of the Kansas State Temperance Union started off with a dash to-day. Early in the session President Lockwood opened the way for a discussion of the prohibition law as it is enforced in these good old Populist times, which brought forth many interesting tales.

The meeting was called to order at 4 o'clock, with about 200 delegates in attendance. The president announced that there would be an experience meeting first, in order to stir up some enthusiasm. He called for three minute speeches from the various delegates as to the condition of mperance affairs in their neighbor local-

Dr. Fisher, ignorantly, of course (at least his friends hope so), started off by telling that the prohibitory law was fairly well enforced at Topeka, when, in fact, everybody knew that there are more joints in To-peka to-day than before the passage of the law. The other speakers did not attempt to color the condition of affairs in their locality in order to make a good showing. L. H. Thompson, of Norton, said in his county a desperate fight had been made against the saloons, and that, at present, none existed. He said the people were losing confidence on account of the general violation of the law, and that if the tem-perance people did not find some way to stir officials up the law would soon be disre-garded everywhere. He said the men should quit laying the blame of the non-enforce-ment of the law on the women and depending on them to drive the joints out. The he said, would have to take a hand in the fight. He favored making every preacher, Sunday school superintendent and churchgoer in the state take a pledge not to support any candidate for governor, at-torney general or county attorney who will to pry into the workings of the police not agree to enforce the law to the letter.

J. A. Hyden, of Winfield, said that political affairs in Cowley county were in the most humiliating condition of anything this side of purgatory. Joints, he said, were flourishing like a green bay tree, and juries acquitted jointists in the face of the most direct and positive evidence of law viola-tions. Cowley county, he said, had tried county attorneys from all parties, with the same result. The temperance people asked the mayor to order the joints closed last summer, during the Chautauqua assembly, and he villified them. J. E. Brant, of Coffey county, said the law in his locality was only fairly well enforced. He had not seen a drunken man on the streets in a year, but there was some whisky sold. He said: "Coffey county, the home of Governor Leedy, stands ferninst the governor on the liquor question." He said that Governor Morrill was a weak-kneed official and that Leedy winks and blinks at the violation of the prohibitory law. He commended the stand taken by County Attorney Sheppard, of Fort Scott, in driving the joints out, and the large audience applauded his words. He said that the seal of condemnation should be placed on the officials of all the larger towns which are in open rebellion.

William Harland said he came from Atchison, a noted temperance town of Kansaz, where anarchy is in full control, so far as the enforcement of the liquor law is concerned. He wound up: "When any political aspirant from Atchison comes to you for your suffrage, smell his breath

E. L. Thomas, of Whiting, said there was not an open saloon in Nemaha county, but plenty of joints. The county attorney, however, was trying to do his duty, and was arresting jointists right and left. The speaker said he had been pushing the fight himself, and that twice within a few months a mob had been organized to lynch him; but, he said, the leaders did not have the courage to carry out their plans. Dr. J. G. Dougherty, of Kansas City, Kas., startled the delegates by stating that there was not a solitary joint in his After a brief pause, however, he declared that there were over 100 open saloons running; that they were well regulated, and under the protection and supervision of the governor of the great state of Kansas. President Lockwood then announced that the experience meeting would suspend for the day, as there was other business to be transacted. The following committees were appointed:

Description, Look

At to-night's session, President Lock-wood delivered his annual address. He said that the union had conducted a campaign of education during the past year, and that much good had been accomplished. Over-centidence, he declared, endangered the success of the movement. "If prohibition is overthrown," said he, "it will be done through overconfidence of its friends, and not because of the strength and numbers of its enemies. No one can doubt numbers of its enemies. No one can doubt that the principles of prohibition have a firm hold in this state."

Under the heading, "Things That Are Needed," the president said:
"First—We need the temperance forces of the state united and reorganized. To accomplish this, the union would recommend a therough organization in every county, township and school distorted in the state to the end that the latent forces may be called into active work. Let a state organizer be employed to canvass the state.

State.

"Second—We need the temperance sentiment thoroughly aroused. The press should be utilized to its fullest extent. The press is a powerful educator, and has shown a willingness to favor us with its influence. Its columns are always open to use and if we don't take advantage of the offer it is our fault. The pulpit can be depended upon. Mass meetings and picnics should be held.

on. Mass meetings and pienics should be held.

"Third—We need officers, from the highest to the lowest, who will do their duty. If we want this class of officers the temperance voters must be in evidence. We must not wait until after the various conventious of the various parties are held, when it is too late to enter a useless protest."

The first day's session closed to-night with an address by Dr. Howard Russell, of Columbus, O., national organizer of the anti-saloon leasue. The union will get down to business in carnest to-morrow.

A SCHEME THAT FAILED.

How Cy Leland Blocked a Plan to Keep Tab on His Political Mores.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 1.-(Special.) Oliver Wilkerson, a clerk in the pension office here, has made application to be trans ferred to the pension office at Washington, and Pension Agent Leland has approved the application. There is an interesting lit-tle story connected with the matter. Wilk-

Ryan-Sterne-Curtis crowd. He was for several years a stenographer in the pension office at Washington. When it was asceroffice at Washington. When it was ascertained definitely that Leland was to get the penson office the other fellows thought it would be a good scheme to send Wilkerson out here and arrange it so that he would become Leland's stenographer. In this way, they could keep track of his maneuvers. The transfer was made, and an application was made to transfer Tracy, the old stenographer in the Topeka pension office, to Washington. This was done to get rid of the only stenographer in the office. Then it would be easy sailing for Wilkerson. Leland fell onto the scheme after Wilkerson had got here and refused to let Tracy be transferred. Wilkerson has been doing regular cierical work in the office, and now he wants to go back to office, and now he wants to go back to Washington. He has made the application, and, as stated above, Leland approved it as once. He expects to go back shortly. His place here will be filled by some clerk in the Washington department.

QUESTIONS FOR PENSIONERS. Each Beneficiary Must Give an Account of Himself at the Next Payment.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 1.-(Special.) Each of 20,000 old veterans who received their pen-sion money through the Topeka pension agency will find an additional blank enclosed in the letter containing his blank vouchers this next time. It requires the pensioner to give a complete history of his marriage, of his wife's folks and his children, if he has any. The questions pro-pouned follow:
"Are you married? If so, please state your wife's full name and her maiden name."

your wife's full name and her maiden name."

"When, where and by whom were you married?"

"What record of marriage exists?"

"Were you previously married? If so, please state the name of your former wife, the date and place of her death or divorce."

"Have you any children living? If so, please state their names and dates of their birth."

birth."

The pensioner is required to give this information to the pension agent, who, in turn, is directed to forward it to the department at Washington. The clerks in the local pension office are required to work overtime in order to prepare the blanks for mailing.

JOHNSON AND HIS LABORS. He Is Commissioner of Labor and Commissioned to Labor-at What? State Labor Commissioner Lee Johnson has been in Kausas City, Kas., since Monday morning, and if certain leading Populists are not mistaken, he is finishing an investigation begun by him some time ago. Mr. Johnson, however, says that he is there just to inspect the various large industries. Labor Commissioner Johnson made a mysterious visit to Kansas City, Kas., department. He was supposed to have been detailed to this work by Governor been detailed to this work by Governor Leedy. A member of the police department, who is acquainted with Mr. Johnson, learned the nature of the commissioner's business in Kansas City, Kas., and The Journal published the story. Commissioner Johnson immediately took his departure, and, after conferring with the governor, denied the story of his investigation. Whether Mr. Johnson is in Kansas City, Kas., now for the purpose of investigating some one or not, the police officials of that city are greatly annoyed by his visit.

W. C. EDWARDS' CANDIDACY.

Lumbermen of Kansas and Missouri Approve It-Will Have Strong Support in Southwest.

Larned, Kas., Feb. 1.—(Special.) The an-nouncement in The Journal that the Hon. W. C. Edwards is a candidate for governor seems to have met with general approval in the western part of the state. He is sure to have a very strong following in the Seventh congressional district. Mr. Ed-wards received the following message:

Texarkana, Feb. 1, '28.

Hon. W. C. Edwards, Larned, Kas.

Two hundred members of Kansas Lumber Association and seventy from Missouri commend your announcement for governor by resolutions and express hope of your election.

MOFFETT.

To this, reply was made as follows: Colonel J. V. Moffett, Texarkana, Ark. Express my thanks to the lumbermen accompanying you for their generous expressions, and ask Missourians to move over into Kansas, the best state in the Union.

W. C. EDWARDS.

COL. DICK BLUE HERE.

Attends to Legal Business, Shake Hands, and Says He Is a Candidate for Congress.

Colonel Richard Blue, ex-congressmanat-large of Kansas, who, by the way, has given notice to the people of the Sunflower state that he would like very much to drop the "ex" portion of his title at the next election, spent yesterday in Kansas City, Kas. He arrived on a morning train City, Kas. He arrived on a morning train and, after attending to some court matters in which he was interested, he sauntered about the town shaking hands with his friends and incidentally putting in a word or two for "Colonel Dick." He announced to all with whom he came in contact, that he was a candidate for his old position, and to his more intimate friends he quietly gave a "tip" that he was going to succeed. The ex-congressman has many friends at the Kaw's mouth who would like to see him prove a winner. He will leave this morning for the Indian Territory.

LIBERTY PARTY REVIVED. St. John Wing of Kansas Prohibition ists Now Has a State Central Committee. Topeka, Kas., Feb. 1.-(Special.) The Liberty Prohibition party of Kansas was re-vived to-day. Nineteen prohibitionists who believe in temperance with a party behind it met in the senate chamber and perfected an organization by appointing a provisional state central committee, as follows: T. S. Walters, Norway; Dr. W. J. Newton, Ottawa; I. Beliknap, Pittsburg; Thomas Owen, Topeka; Rev. G. T. Black, Wichita; Mrs. C. A. Ripper, Severance; F. C. Griffith, Kanapolis; A. H. Griesa, Lawrence; George Barrington, Barclay; H. S. Bosworth, Ames; W. S. Hannah, Kansas City, The Liberty party is the St. John Free Silver Prohibition party in Kansas. In 1886 it pelled 629 votes in the state, "without any effort being set forth," as one of the speakers said to-day, It adopted resolutions favoring a fusion deal with the single plank prohibition party. believe in temperance with a party behind

BOYLE IS INVESTIGATING.

Governor Leedy Sends the Attorney General to Fort Scott as a Special Commissioner.

Fort Scott, Kas., Feb. 1.-(Special.) Attorney General Boyle arrived here to-day to investigate the police muddle for Gov-ernor Leedy. It is said here to-night that he will recommend abolishing the board. While he denies that he will make this recommendation, he has expressed the opinion that the governor should not appoint anoth-er board—that he should either allow the present one to stand or abolish the system of police control. He consulted many local of police control. He consulted many local coliticians, including County Attorney Shepard, and sent a long telegram to Topeka. Every member of the delegation new in Topeka is after office, and Mr. Boyle has been convinced that they have little interest in the party welfare.

NEW YORK LIFE IS ALL RIGHT. Webb McNall Has Been Convinced That an Examination Will

Not Be Necessary.

Topeka, Kas., Feb. 1 .- (Special.) Insurance Superintendent McNall to-day received a letter from President John A. McCall, of the New York Life Insurance Company, thanking him for past favors and informing him that the New York Life and informing him that the New York Life would gladly submit to an examination if the Kansas insurance department deemed it necessary. McNall is satisfied that everything is all right with the company and will not examine its condition.
